GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Earth Sinking.

POTTSVILLE, Dec. 4.—The surface of the earth at Mahoney Plain started to cave in again last night and caused much alarm among the residents. They remained up all last night preparing to move their household effects. The foundations are cracking and houses are liable to sink out of sight at any moment. The sinking of the ground is caused by the excavations of the mines.

A Sacred Work.

CHICAGO, Dec 4.—Six ladies of the Convent of the Sacred Heart in this city are about to go to New Zealand to found an establishment of their order there. They leave for San Francisco on the 12th inst., from whence they go by a Pacific Mail steamship. Among the number is Madame Sullivan of the Female Parochial school, who is well known.

Hanged.

ELKTON, Md., Dec. 5.—Medford Waters, colored, was hanged here to-day for the murder of Jenkins Whaley, colored, on November 12, 1878.

The Boss Outrage.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 6.—The Observer, the republican organ, published a statement received by the republican campaign committee from Delta, to the effect that Dave Armstrong was hung on Sunday night, R. H. Brown, late postmaster, was hung and ex-Sheriff Peck was whipped and stretched on Monday night, and twenty-five others run away from the parish. The terrorism is complete. The parish has been counted in by over 2000 majority for the democrats. Republicans did not vote.

Report Denied.

VICKSBURG, Dec. 6.—A report from Delta, published in the Observer, and telegraphed from New Orleans last night about affairs in Madison parish, Louisiana, is pronounced false in every particular.

The Central System.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Another vote will be taken at the Produce Exchange on the question of adopting the central system.

Indicted.

Joseph and Mary Volkmert were indicted to-day for having administered poison to Charles E. Blain with intent to kill.

Railroad Accident.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—A dispatch from Glasgow, Missouri, says: On the Chicago & Alton, the Denver passenger and express west bound, due here at 5:10 this morning, jumped the track while running at a rapid rate, making a frightful wreck. The engine turned completely over, rolling down a five foot embankment, and is badly damaged. The baggage car ran on down the track, the express car crashed against the engine and five other cars were thrown from the track, none, however, being overturned. Three coaches, including the sleeper, kept the track. The express and baggage car and engine are almost entirely demolished. Engineer Peck Mead was bruised, but not seriously; Fireman Amy Lammatha was terribly scalded and his recovery is doubtful. Express Messenger Harry Brown was seriously bruised and injured. None of the passengers were injured. Cause, a broken rail at the switch.

Tree Planting.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Gen. Grant this afternoon took a hand in the tree planting at South Park, by invitation of the park commission. An American weeping elm, 70 years old, was planted, the general handling the spade.

Election of State Officers.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—The general assembly meets Tuesday next for the election of state officers. The republicans hold the caucus Monday night. Their nomination is equivalent to election.

Killed in an Elevator.

DETROIT, Dec. 6.—Lizzie Palk, a laundry girl, in the employment of the Russell House in this city, while descending in the freight department of the hotel elevator, about 3 o'clock this afternoon, was caught between the elevator and projecting beam and her head and lower jaw so terribly crushed as to cause instant death.

A Brutal Negro.

N. J., Dec. 6.—John Thomas (colored) last night entered the residence of Randolph Losee, a farmer living three miles from Camden, and demanded money. Failing to get it he shot Losee. A scuffle ensued and the negro escaped, but was subsequently arrested and imprisoned in the Camden jail. Losee's wounds are regarded as fatal. A mob threatened to break into the jail and lynch the negro, and military protection has been called for.

Grant Again.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—A letter from General Grant to a New York legislation committee, announces that he will visit New York on the 18th of December, unless in the meantime he accepts a pending invitation to go to Havana via Key West, starting southward about the 20th inst. In the latter case he will not visit New York until his return next spring from the West Indies.

Still Alive.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 7.—R. H. Brown, the man reported to have been hanged, was at home in Tallulah, La., late this evening, well and hearty. The other cases reported are on a par with that of Brown.

The Election.

The election passed off more quietly than has been known for years.

RENO COURT MARTIAL.

Close of the Prosecution—A Gushing Defense of Maj. Reno.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DEADWOOD, Dec. 4.—In the Reno court martial at Fort Meade to-day the prosecution closed their case after examining Mrs. W. T. Wallace, without adducing any other facts than those already telegraphed.

The defense was then opened. Dr. Irwin testified that moving from a cold place into a warm room might produce the same effects as those manifested by Reno at the supper table at Fanshaw's house on the night of August 31.

Major Marcus A. Reno testified that on the night of November 10, walking in front of the Sturgis house, he saw Ella in complete dress. She presented such a beautiful picture that he could not resist the temptation of looking through the window upon her. He had no intention of alarming them, and would suffer the loss of his right hand before he would cause them the slightest injury. He did not approach the window stealthily or suspiciously, but walked there as he would walk into the court room. He wrote a very humble note of apology to Mr. Sturgis for his action that night, but owing to his being in close arrest he could not send it until two days after. He had always entertained the highest respect and admiration for Miss Ella and the Sturgis family. He testified that on the night of October 25th, when he had an altercation with Nicholson, he was perfectly sober, and that Nicholson repeatedly bragged of being able to whip him which drove him beyond the limits of patience, and in an angry passion he struck Nicholson with a billiard cue.

The court adjourned till to-morrow, when the case will probably close.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Vessel Inspector's Report.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—James A. Dumont, supervising inspector general of steam vessels, in his report shows that during the last fiscal year there were 4250 steamers inspected and 15,212 officers licensed. Total number of lives lost by accidents from various causes 171, forty-four of which are not chargeable to accidents resulting from the use of steam navigation.

Union League Meeting.

The annual session of the national council of the Union League of America will be held in Philadelphia on Wednesday next. Distinguished men from different parts of the country will be present and address the council.

Appointments.

The president to-day appointed Wilbur K. Bailey, of Providence, R. I., to fill the vacancy in the board of Indian commissioners, caused by the death of J. D. Lang. The president has also appointed Gen. Geo. Stoneman, of California, to fill the other vacancy in this board, which has remained unfilled for about four years. The board now consists of ten members, the maximum number allowed by law.

Reversal.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The secretary of the interior to-day decided that the benefits of the timber culture law may be secured by planting cottonwood trees. This decision reverses former rulings of the department.

Reagan's Bill.

Representative Reagan has to-day issued notice that the house commerce committee will hear arguments next Tuesday either for or against his so-called inter state commerce bill, which provided for regulating railroad rates by national authority. This bill passed the house in the last congress but failed to receive any action in the senate. In urging it for passage again Judge Reagan will have the ardent support of a number of western members, among whom may be specially mentioned Daggett, of Nevada, who regards it as of the very highest importance for his constituents.

Contested Elections.

The sub-committee of the house of the committee on elections, consisting of Armfield, Belzhoover, Keefer and Overton, held their first meeting this morning with every member in attendance. Request was received from Washburn, sitting member from the third Minnesota district, that hearing in his case be postponed until after the holidays. Donnelly, contestant, is in this city. The case of Bisbee vs. Hull, of the 2d Florida district, be taken up on Thursday next and oral arguments heard.

NATIONAL FINANCES.

Various Proposed Resolutions and the Position of the Different Parties Thereon—A Proposed Bill.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The republicans in both branches of congress appear very generally to have reached a tacit agreement that Senator Carpenter's financial resolution should be adopted. This simply declares that any legislation during the present session of congress materially changing the existing system of finance would be inexpedient, or, in other words, that it will be wise to let well enough alone. While thus implying all that is contained in the Fort resolution, it is drawn in smoother terms, which according to current gossip were submitted to President Hayes and met his approval as the best that could be devised to avert the threatened injurious consequences in a party point of view of his own recommendations. Just as the republicans, however, by repudiating the president's financial recommendations have a fair promise of escaping a party division the democrats find that trouble has been created within their own lines by Senator Bayard's bombshell in the resolution, proposing to abrogate the legal tender power of the greenbacks and thus make greenbacks merely treasury notes or promises to pay. This does not meet with the approbation of many western democrats. It is argued that if the legal tender quality of greenbacks be eliminated the national banks could practically drive them out of circulation by refusing to receive them, and western democrats believe that national banks would not hesitate to pursue this policy, which it is further alleged would be manifestly to their advantage. Western democrats assert also that if Bayard, through this resolution, hopes to gain eastern support for the presidential nomination he may succeed in that direction but has certainly driven the west away from him. Senator Bayard on the other hand is confident that a calm consideration of his resolution will show that it is perfectly in accord with old and universally recognized democratic doctrines, and that its adoption would cut the ground right out from under the feet of their political opponents in the north who claim that southern and western democrats are not in favor of honest money, and not therefore safe to be trusted with the control of national finances. Bayard also insists that greenbacks without a legal tender quality would still remain in circulation, for they would be redeemable in coin by the government just as they now are. With his customary frankness and sincerity he admits, however, that he is not very sanguine that his resolution will be accepted.

Proposed Finance Bill.

The house committee on banking and currency to-day authorized its chairman, Judge Buckner, to report to the house, for passage at the first opportunity, the following important bill:

Bill requiring the reserve of National Banking Associations to be kept in gold and silver coins of the United States in lieu of lawful money.

Be it enacted, etc., That section 5191 of the revised statutes of the United States is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 5191. Every National Banking Association in either of the following cities, Albany, Baltimore, Boston, Cincinnati, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Louisville, Milwaukee, New Orleans, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, St. Louis, San Francisco, Richmond, Charleston and Washington shall at all times have on hand in lawful money of the United States, one-half of which shall be in standard gold and silver coins of the United States, an amount equal to at least twenty-five per centum of the aggregate amount of its notes in circulation and its deposits; and every other banking association shall at all times have on hand in lawful money of the United States, one-half of which shall be in standard gold or silver coins of the United States, an amount equal at least to fifteen per centum of the aggregate amount of its notes in circulation and of its deposits. Whenever the lawful money of an association in any of the cities named shall be below the amount of twenty-five per centum of its circulation and deposit, and whenever the lawful money of any other banking association shall be below 15 per centum of its circulation and deposits, such association shall not increase its liabilities by making any new loans or discounts otherwise than by discounting or purchasing bills of exchange payable at sight, nor make any dividend of its profits until the equal proportion between the aggregate amounts of its outstanding notes of circulation and deposits, and its lawful money of the United States in the proportion required as to coin, has been restored; and the comptroller of currency may notify any association whose lawful money reserve shall be below the amount and proportion of coin as above required to be kept on hand to make good such reserve, and if such association shall fail for 30 days thereafter so as to make good its reserve of lawful money, and in proportion as aforesaid, the comptroller may, with the concurrence of the secretary of the treasury, appoint a receiver to wind up the business of such association as provided in section 5234. Provided, That neither clearinghouse certificates nor balances provided for in section 5191, shall be counted or deemed any portion of the coin reserves required by this act.

Judge Buckner states that one effect of the enactment of this bill, aside from the purpose indicated by its title, would be to abolish the present distinctions between the proportion of coin required to be kept as a reserve by the national banks in the cities named and the proportion required to be maintained by all other nations banks. The main object of the bill is, however, to effect the distribution throughout the country of a considerable portion of the coin that has accumulated in the U. S. treasury, and incidentally to release a corresponding amount of legal tender notes now kept by banks as a part of their reserves.

The banking and currency committee also to-day took up the resolutions introduced in the house a few days ago by Representatives Price and Fort, but after briefly discussing them laid them aside for consideration at a meeting called for next Wednesday.

A prominent democratic member of the committee expresses an opinion, based upon the tenor of preliminary discussion this morning, that the committee will probably take no action at present upon these resolutions, or in regard to the president's and Secretary Sherman's recommendations therein referred to.

An Explanation.

With reference to the recent pointed comments of several Pacific coast newspapers, it is stated at the treasury department, that the reason for suspending operations at the Carson City mint, was because sufficient bullion could not be obtained in that vicinity to warrant continuing the coinage at Carson. This, according to the department's information, was owing to the fact that the principal Nevada mine owners have preferred to ship bullion direct to San Francisco for refining, because they were pecuniarily interested in a large private refinery there. Burchard says the rates for parting and refining silver for the Carson mint have been fixed from time to time at precisely the same figures as for the Philadelphia and San Francisco mints, and that whenever it is found that sufficient quantity of bullion can be obtained to justify operating the Carson mint, the coinage at Carson will be resumed.

Mexican Raid.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Dec. 7.—A well founded rumor is prevalent here that a party of 25 Mexicans raided McClellen's stock ranch on the Rio Grande. The people on the ranch were tied to trees while the premises were robbed of money and valuables. A large number of horses and mules were driven off by the marauders.

The new road to the landing at Ilwaco has been formally opened and drained.

THE INDIAN WAR.

To be Promoted for Gallantry—Representative Belford Tells what he knows of the Utes and their Reservation.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Secretary McCrary has found a way to reward the heroic conduct of Capt. Dodge of the 9th cavalry, who, with his company of colored troops, so gallantly went to the rescue of Capt. Paines' beleaguered command at the imminent risk of annihilation by the Ute Indians. Col. Prince, of the pay corps, will soon go upon the retired list, and Capt. Dodge is to be appointed major and paymaster to fill the vacancy which will be created by the resulting promotions.

A Spicy Interview.

The Republican to-day published a spicy interview with Congressman Belford, of Colorado. After being informed that the Ute reservation embraced 12,000,000 acres in Colorado, an area equal to the state of Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island and Delaware, The reporter inquired—How many Indians are there in Colorado?

Judge Belford—Three thousand all told, and each buck, squaw and papoose, if the land were divided per capita, would receive 4000 acres. A white man in this country can take 160 acres, an Indian 4000.

Reporter—What caused the outbreak in Colorado?

Belford—Agent Meeker plowed two and a half acres of land out of the 12,000,000 and they murdered him for doing it.

Reporter—The commissioner of Indian affairs says in his report that miners have made settlements on the Utes' reservation?

Belford—That is not true. The statement is wholly without foundation, and I am surprised that the commissioner should have made it.

Reporter—Have the people of Colorado given the Utes any occasion for the late outbreak?

Belford—None whatever. Mr. Schurz himself says the Indians were without excuse.

Reporter—If the Indians are not removed, will there be trouble next spring?

Belford—I think so. This reservation embraces a valuable mineral land, and the Indians will not work it or allow any one else to do so. No government ever before allowed a lazy race to stand in the way of development of its mineral resources, and I don't think this nation will long continue to be the exception.

In the course of further conversation as to the policy that the government should pursue toward the Indians, Judge Belford expressed himself earnestly in favor of transferring the control of Indian affairs to the war department, and remarked, "We appropriate millions of dollars for their support. If we feed them there is no occasion for their hunting, and they should be disarmed. If they desire to hunt for pleasure they can use the bow and arrow. They kill game in Colorado for the sake of the pelts, and trade the skins for Sharp's rifles, and with them kill the settlers."

THE GREAT TRAVELER.

Grant Toasted in the Commercial Club of Chicago—He Makes a Speech, etc.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—At the dinner of the Commercial Club on Saturday, President J. W. Doane was flanked on either side by Gen. Grant and Gov. Long. He presided with dignity and his introductions of speakers were made in felicitous remarks of good fellowship, which gave a warmth and friendliness to the proceedings, which were in perfect accord with the occasion. President Doane in opening the speech making welcomed the guests from all sections of the union and especially Gen. Grant, now returning to his native state after a long period of travel, which had been one continued ovation. He spoke particularly also of the Boston delegation representatives of the great commercial center, around which this continent—the globe itself—evolves. He proposed the health of General Grant as one of the members of that Galena ring, whose component parts were of such sterling material. General Grant being called for, then said:

The allusions of your president to myself have been gratifying on the whole, and the assurances that he has held out to me that if I would settle among you that I can receive the unanimous vote of this club for its presidency, is the most tempting offer that I have had yet. I have read of numerous places having been cut out for me before, but this is the only one that I have had any assurance of. But in this case even, I am somewhat embarrassed. My understanding before coming here this evening, was that to become a member of this club a man had to represent some industry or other. Some one of the great industries which have made our country so great and prosperous, and I am at a loss really to know where I should come in. I do see here one or two of the ring that have been referred to as that Galena ring who I believe have the honor of being enrolled as members of his club. How they got in is equally puzzling to me. Gentlemen, I thank you very heartily for the honor you have done me, not only in this kind offer you have made to locate me in the honorable and responsible place, but for the way you have received me on the whole. [Vociferous and prolonged applause.]

President Candler, of Boston, recalled the previous meetings of these two prominent commercial bodies, and alluded to the magnitude of the interests they represent and to debt of gratitude which they owe to Gen. Grant for his protection of those interests.

Mayor Rice, of Boston, eulogized Gen. Grant as the man who had been honored here to the full extent of honor which our people can bestow upon a citizen as the man who had gone abroad among all peoples, receiving everywhere marks of friendship and confidence in which his country was held abroad, and who returned to receive the gratitude of his countrymen and to live among them in the peace which he had taken a prominent and leading part in securing for them. He declared that the bond of union would and should be more closely cemented. There is no limit to American enterprise, and no room or cause for jealousies, and we may throw them away and begin the struggle to carry forward American influence to a point never before reached by any nation. The greatness of a nation does not after all consist in its resources and its industries, but in its men, their character and aspirations. We shall rise above all other lands by superiority of national character, and that alone. [Applause.]

THE MORMONS.

The Politics of Utah in Case of Admission as a State as Portrayed by Delegate Cannon.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Dec 6.—The Star this evening publishes an interview with Delegate Cannon this morning, which contains the following very shrewd, double-edged rejoinder to the question, "what would be the politics of Utah if it became a state." Cannon is reported as saying that it would be a democratic state: I am satisfied from my own observations that the feelings of the people are in accord with feelings of the democracy. They believe in home rule. I cannot say, however, what would be the effect should Utah be admitted by the republicans; then it might be a republican state. A feeling of gratitude to the party that lets us into the Union would, no doubt, influence a very large number of voters who are not very decided in their political views.

Delegate Cannon is also reported as saying there are about 150,000 Mormons, of whom about 50,000 are men and not more than 5000 have a plurality of wives. It is over this small number that all this fuss is made. While the Mormons believe in polygamy, I believe that it was the revelation of God, they are not going to violate the law of the country by practicing it. None of us intend to violate the law of 1862 but there is no law to forbid our faith in our principles. There is no inducement that could be offered that would lead Mormons to abandon their faith. We will cherish our belief, but as I have said we will not practise it because that would be violation of the law.

Congressional Picnics.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Senator Don Cameron is getting up a grand excursion of members of both houses of congress to attend Gen. Grant's reception in Philadelphia on the 16th inst. In view of this it is not improbable that congress will adjourn over that date, and it is also very possible that the regular Christmas recess may be made to commence on the 15th inst. and continue three weeks.

The Ilwaco Canal and Railway Company has been incorporated to operate a new transportation route to Shoalwater Bay. The company will immediately open the old Johnson slough for temporary purposes.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Arrested.

DUBLIN, Dec. 5.—Thos. Brennan, an employee of the Dublin City Bakery Company, a leading land agitator and a member of the land league, was arrested this morning and conveyed to Castlebar. He will be charged with using seditious language at Balla and with endeavoring to seduce the police from their allegiance.

Brennan, the Agitator.

DUBLIN, Dec. 5.—Thomas Brennan, who was arrested this morning and taken to Castlebar, is secretary of the national land league and prominent in that association and other political organizations.

To be Tried in Dublin.

The court of the queen's bench to-day granted an application of the crown that if the grand jury of Sligo found true bills against Davitt, Daly and Killen, accused of sedition, the indictments should be removed for trial to Dublin.

A Little Demonstration.

CASTLEBAR, Dec. 6.—On the removal of Thomas Brennan to prison from the court house last night great crowds with blazing tar barrels, followed the car in which he was conveyed, cheering the prisoner and hooting the police. The crowd stopped the car, but as it was well guarded no rescue was attempted. Subsequently the police by order of the magistrate, seized the tar barrels and the crowd dispersed precipitately. There is great excitement at Castlebar and in the neighborhood.

Remanded.

DUBLIN, Dec. 7.—Brennan was received enthusiastically by a large crowd on his arrival at Castlebar under escort of the police. He was taken to the court house and examined. The indictment was read over to him, after which he was remanded till Monday to allow time to secure the attendance of a short-hand writer, who took down his remarks as a witness. Bail was refused.

Preparing for War.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—Accounts from Egypt state that the government is actively completing preparations for war with Abyssinia. The war office at Cairo and the harbor of Suez, where troops are to embark, are very animated. If hostilities are resumed the Egyptian forces will be divided into two armies—offensive and defensive. The former to be composed of 8000 men and the latter 12,000. The offensive army will be directed on the Egyptian harbor of Akko near Adua, the capital of Abyssinia, and the defensive army will take up two entrenched positions, one at Gazum near Rabdal river, and the other at Bahia on Render river, thus commanding the two main roads of Abyssinia leading from the north to the Soudan. Gordon Pasha will command the defensive army.

The Czar at the Theater.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 5.—The czar visited the theater last night and was most enthusiastically received. The performance was suspended while the Russian national anthem was sung.

Will not Retire.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 6.—It is semi-officially announced that on Prince Gortschakoff's resuming the direction of the Russian foreign office, the thanks of the czar will be conveyed to Privy Councillor Greer for his able administration of the office during the chancellor's absence. This appears to indicate that Prince Gortschakoff will not yet retire.

Cuban Affairs.

MADRID, Dec. 6.—Another contingent of 1600 soldiers left yesterday for Cuba. A cabinet council yesterday discussed the bill relative to reforms in the financial administration of Cuba, which it is believed will be presented in the cortes before Christmas.

Stranded.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The steamer Anglia was stranded in Firth of Clyde and has her fore compartment flooded. She will have to discharge nearly all her cargo.

Fearful Cyclone.

During the recent cyclone in the Bay of Bengal the storm-wave swept over Monkishkol Island, drowning several hundred persons.

The Ministry Wins.

PARIS, Dec. 7.—The ministerial majority of 221 yesterday consisted of 35 members of the left center, the entire group of 152 pure left, and 32 advanced or Garibaldiest left. Brisson is among these last. The minority of 97 comprised 60 Bonapartists, 29 royalists and 8 radicals, Raspail, Girardin, Tullandie and 5 others. Allowing for 13 absentees on leave, there were 200 neutrals, about 20 royalists, 30 Bonapartists and 150 advanced republicans present. It seems that these last were beginning to vote against the cabinet, when they perceived that a portion of the right were doing the same, whereupon they cancelled their votes, not wishing to defeat the cabinet by coalition with the reactionaries.

Notable Death.

LONDON, Dec 7.—William John Scott Bentenick, fifth duke of Poland, is dead.

The Obelisk.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Dec. 7.—Preparations for the shipment of the obelisk to New York are attracting great crowds of people, and the proper position has been watched and excited the interest of travelers and officials and of the lower classes.

CANADA.

OTTAWA, Dec. 7.—A statement of the revenue and expenditures account of the consolidated fund of the dominion of Canada, to the 30th of November gives the total revenue expenditures to be $9 242 290.

NOVA SCOTIA.

HALIFAX, Dec. 7.—The new French Atlantic cable landed at Big Lorraine, two miles east of Louisburg.

THE MENDOCINO OUTLAWS.

Captured at Last—A Lively Chase in which one is Killed, one Captured and one still at Large.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICO, Dec. 6.—The Record of this afternoon has the following particulars of the capture of one of the Mendocino outlaws and the killing of another: Sheriff Moore, of Mendocino county, left Chico a few days ago in company with Mr. Stanley and a few others, determined to make another attempt at the capture of the Mendocino outlaws. From information obtained, they had every reason to believe that they were secreted in Butte creek canyon in the neighborhood of Nimshew, and yesterday morning about daylight they came upon them in an old cabin between Nimshew and Big Butte creek. The cabin is surrounded by brush, except a little clearance in front. Two of the men were in the cabin and one was engaged in chopping wood outside on the approach of the sheriff and his party. They were called upon to surrender and the guns of the party were leveled at them, so that it was thought that their capture was certain. Seeing it was impossible to get to their guns, the murderers immediately broke for the thick brush near at hand. A volley was fired after them and Billings fell mortally wounded. Brown and Gantz made their escape by running in opposite directions, followed by a party of the sheriff's posse. Gauntz made his way directly through the brush toward Nimshew and took refuge in an old cabin near the main road leading to town, arriving ahead of Sheriff Moore, who was returning to Chico with the body of Billings. From this place he was enabled to view the crowd assembling around the hotel, the holding of an inquest and preparing of a box for the body of his dead comrade. The party in search of him came to the hotel late in the evening to rest. In the meantime Silas Hill came to the hotel and informed the officers that he had lost a robe off of his buggy near the cabin by the road. This afternoon the officers were on the track and as they started Stanley, who headed this party, concluded to examine every place in the vicinity, and the old cabin received his attention, and on going into it found Gantz tucked under Hill's missing buggy robe. He was called upon to surrender and being unarmed, hungry and cold, merely replied, "Boys you have got me. I'm ready." Gantz is a small, spare man, and has been known by the name of Frenchy. Stanley and Hill arrived in town with him heavily ironed, and he now occupies a cell in the lockup. The party are still in pursuit of Brown and being without hat or proper clothing, it is expected that he may be captured to-night or to-morrow. Sheriff Moore has the arms and ammunition of the outlaws.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

New Steamer Line.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4.—The French gunboat Lamotte-Piquet arrived this evening from Tahiti. The government there granted a subsidy of $16,000 yearly for a line of steamers between Papeete and San Francisco. The line will be started next spring.

Counterfeiters.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—A few days ago U. S. Detective Sturgis went to Los Angeles on intelligence from the chief of police of that city, that he had arrested a man for passing counterfeit silver dollar pieces. On questioning the prisoner Sturgis got a clue to the place in the mountains where the manufacture of spurious coin was carried on, and in Dalton canyon, Sierra Madre range, was found a deserted camp, a lot of counterfeiting tools and material and papers. Emer Matlock and William Lewis were arrested and held in $3000 and $2000 bonds respectively. Counterfeit coin has been circulated through the southern portion of the state.

Gone from their Gaze.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6.—City Tax Collector A. J. Hamilton has left for parts unknown, taking with him about $9000 of the city's money, collected by him during the few days before taxes became delinquent. He has not been seen since 7 o'clock on Saturday evening. The property of his bondsmen has been attached so that the city may not lose anything by the theft. There is considerable excitement in the city over the affair, as it is the fourth defalcation this city and county has had within five years.

The O'Brien Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—In the probate court to-day the approval and allowance of the executors' account in the estate of O'Brien, was postponed to Friday next, on application of the referee. David McClure was appointed attorney for absent heirs, and Tuesday next was set by the referee for hearing of Burke's objections to the account and for taking testimony.

Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—An unknown man was found dead in a most unfrequented portion of the Golden Gate park this afternoon. On his person were found an empty whisky flask and a vial that had contained laudanum and a discharged derringer near him, the bullet from which had penetrated his brain.

A Grand Success.

The attendance this evening for the benefit of the orphan children of Gen. Hood, tendered by his old comrades and friends, is a great success. The house is jammed, and the net profits will approximate $1000. In addition to the regular performance of "Forget Me Not," Capt. Jack Crawford, the poet and scout, delivered a poem written for the occasion.

Arrested.

A man supposed to be a member of the recently discovered gang of counterfeiters, was arrested at Los Angeles this evening in an attempt to pass a spurious $5 gold piece. Counterfeit gold to the amount of nearly $500 was found on his person. He refused to make any statement or give his name.

Escaped.

A Los Angeles dispatch says that C. A. Matlock, one of the gang of counterfeiters in the jail here awaiting the action of the grand jury, made his escape this afternoon by picking the lock of the jail doors. Officers are in pursuit.

She Would, and She Wouldn't.

STOCKTON, Dec. 6.—Gregoria Braghetti, a Swiss, about 30 years of age, committed suicide last last by taking strychnine. Deceased was to have been married Sunday, but had a slight quarrel with his betrothed.

Kearney Going East.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—At the sand lots this afternoon, Kearney announced his intention of starting next Sunday for the east for the purpose of attending the conference of the greenback congressmen and labor organizations, to be held at Washington January 8th. He proclaimed the republican party as a common enemy which he intended to fight in the next presidential campaign. He also announced that the friends of the people would contrive at the assembling of the legislature to organize the house in opposition to the republicans. This is in harmony with the report telegraphed some time ago to the effect that a bargain was a part of the programme between the workingmen and the democracy with a view to controlling the organization.

Late this afternoon a wind storm began to blow heavily from the southeast, and soon after rain began falling. There is every prospect of a heavy storm.

Mud.

Mammoth levies an assessment of $1.

Another Unfortunate.

Amelia Meronez, a woman of the town, suicided last night by taking morphine. It is alleged as the cause that she was tired of the life that she was leading.

Murder.

The body of a Chinamen was found lying across the car track on Long bridge this morning with four knife wounds in his head and neck and a dirk sticking in a deep wound in his side from which his intestines protruded. No clew to the murderer has been discovered.

Fearful Rain Storm.

YREKA, Dec. 5.—The most extraordinary rain storm that has ever visited this section ceased this morning. In about eighteen hours 3.86 inches of rain fell, making 4.68 since the 1st inst. The storm appears to have been equally severe all over the county. Cottonwood creek is impassable, and the stages are unable to cross. It is also impossible to cross the Klamath river. The bridge across Mill creek at Etna is washed away, and the stages cannot cross there. At Fort Jones the Scott river is almost impassable. Nothing like the same amount of rain has ever fallen here before in the same space of time.

Patter, Patter.

SHASTA, Cal., Dec. 6.—It still continues raining. Yesterday the Sacramento river rose seventeen feet, and could not be crossed at several points.

More of the Counterfeiters.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—A Los Angeles dispatch says another of the gang of counterfeiters was arrested and gave his name as James Graham. On his person was found a shipping receipt for a package which was intercepted and found to contain a complete kit of counterfeit tools, dies and molds, for making spurious $5 gold pieces. The man who was arrested yesterday gives the name of O'Rourke, a native of Canada, and furnished the information which led to the arrest of Graham.

SKAGIT GOLD FIELDS.

Report of Prof. Tiernan on the Recently Discovered Mines of Washington Territory.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SEATTLE, W. T., Dec. 6.—An enthusiastic mass meeting was held here this evening for the purpose of raising funds for opening a trail from the head of navigation on the Skagit river to the recently discovered gold fields. The meeting was largely attended. Addresses were delivered by ex-Delegate Jacobs and others, and the official report of Prof. J. M. Tiernan, the mineralogist recently employed to visit the mines and report upon the same, was read. The report concludes as follows:

My first object was to make a thorough investigation of these much talked of mines, and learn for myself if one-fourth that has been said of the richness and extent of the deposit was true. I was rather skeptical in regard to such rumors, but I was agreeably disappointed in finding a deposit more extensive and much richer than I had expected. I prospected the creek for several miles and found every pan dirt that would pay from $ to $5 a day to the hand when properly worked either by wing damming or by sluices. This I consider extremely good for surface diggings with the prospects of a much larger yield on the bed rock, which I have been told yields in many instances from five to six dollars to the pan. I am satisfied that paying ground has already been prospected which would give employment to from five to ten thousand men, and as there are other creeks and benches found in the same range that are known to be rich, the limit of which cannot be estimated, but promise ere long to infuse such mining enthusiasm in this territory as will develop her dormant resources, thereby populating her rich valleys and mountains and make Washington territory one of the great gold producing states of the union.

Yours respectfully, J. M. TIERNAN
Mining Engineer and Metallurgist

Captain Wilson has resigned, and Mr. W. W. Ward is the applicant as his successor for the Ilwaco postoffice.

POLITICAL NOTES.

It is evident that what Mr. Blackburn "wiped out" was not war legislation, but democratic majorities in the northern states. As a wiper Mr. Blackburn is very much of a success.—Burlington Hawkeye (Rep.)

Senator Chandler predicted, in a letter written on the 23d of September last, that every northern state having a general election this fall would secure a victory in favor of a free ballot and an honest count.

Alexander Stephens sees nothing in Congressman Felton's letter inconsistent with the language of the true patriot, and finds in it no indication that its author intends to read himself out of the democratic party. Neither does anybody else. None of these southern independents ever take that step.

Judge Tyner, of Indiana, assistant postmaster general, says that if the republicans of Indiana will agree upon a leader, and stand by him, they will have a good chance of carrying the state next autumn. The trouble, he says, is that there are too many who want to lead, and hence a good deal of quarreling.

The latest rumor about Tilden is highly entertaining. It credits him with a purpose of handing over his presidential claims to Charles Francis Adams, keeper of the fraud brand. He thinks Mr. Adams is the only man who can unite the party. His idea, probably, is that the surest way to preserve the corpse is to freeze it.

John T. Griffin, a wicked Virginia democrat declared elected state senator in the Portsmouth district, magnanimously declines to accept the certificate awarded him, holding that he is not entitled to the seat. Jonathan R. Boush, his republican competitor, received the bigger vote, if all the ballots cast under several different sets of initials were counted for him.

In a talk with a correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, ex-Senator Cameron is said to have referred to political affairs in Pennsylvania as follows: "That, so far as Pennsylvania was concerned an early convention would be held, and the delegates would be instructed for Gen. Grant, thus leading off in the movements preliminary to the presidential contest. That, in his judgment, it mattered little whom the democrats nominated; that the people were not yet ready to allow the south to take possession of the government and would elect Grant with a swell."

The Daily [illegible]

MONDAY MORNING DEC 8 1879

THE VIRGINIA REPUDIATORS.

The readjusters of Virginia claim that the popular vote was much larger in their favor than their majority in the legislature indicates. They say that in many localities there were readjusters running against each other which let in the debt paying candidates. A large majority of the population, they declare will be found to be in favor of repudiation and they add that parties and politicians will do well to make a note of this. The admonition is unnecessary for the note has already been made and taken not only by parties and politicians but by capitalists and business men to their loss. Henceforth notes taken in Virginia will be below par. She has taken her stand under a democratic administration as a repudiator of her obligations and she can not avoid the responsibility by shifting the readjustment measure upon the negroes. Even the Standard would hardly admit other than by the inadvertance which occurs in its columns yesterday morning that the democrats are in a minority in the state. But whether readjustment which is but another name for repudiation is carried out by democrats or republicans, by white men or colored it is regarded as dishonorable in personal matters and honest men everywhere will look at it when practiced by a state in the same light. Moreover Virginia is a democratic state, and on the party which has controlled her internal affairs for years will rest the disgrace of the declaration that she will not pay her honest debts. To say that the democrats of that state could not prevent the repudiation of the debt is to say that they are in the minority especially as the executive is an uncompromising opponent of the measure. Everybody knows however that the men who lead the movement are democrats and have always been and if they have bulldozed or persuaded a few colored people to participate in it a discriminating public will lay the blame where it belongs. What democratic organ condemned the measure before the election? What one of them has condemned it since? What one of them in Oregon has condemned the resolutions looking in the same direction with regard to the debt of the nation that have from time to time been passed in democratic conventions, county, state and national? Until the Standard has condemned such measures itself it can have but little ground on which to stand from which to call upon others to rebuke it. An 'organ' except it be of news and correct opinion, and not of parties or individuals is the lowest type of respectable journalism. It looks at every question from a single standpoint, if it be the organ of an individual, it can indorse nothing which does not inure to his benefit or accord with his views, if it be the organ of a party, it must echo the voice of that party and support its measures. But a paper may be independent and at the same time endorse a political party's course when that course runs parallel with the public good; but no honest, independent paper, whether it be republican or democratic, cannot indorse the measure of repudiation. If such a measure were attempted by republicans, it would be the duty of the republican press to condemn it, and no failure on their part to do so can make it right. State or individual repudiation is dishonest and dishonesty is disgraceful. No party can afford to be disgraced, and no journal which is an organ of honesty as well as of party, can afford to indorse repudiation

LOCKING THE LOTTERIES

The lottery men are employing every effort to defeat the object of Postmaster General Key's order instructing postmasters not to deliver or transmit letters addressed to them as agents or managers of these swindling concerns. While there is an apparent difficulty in the enforcing of the order, all who desire the good of that class of people who would seem to be incapable of taking care of themselves will justify it as a means of stopping one of the greatest frauds of the age. The argument, says the Philadelphia Times, that a century ago lotteries were held in such esteem as to be [illegible] very respectable people as a means of [illegible] money for praiseworthy obje[illegible] weight as an apology for t[illegible] carried on in this country [illegible] the olden time was bad enough, [illegible] by no means as bad as that of present times. Good men found that society was becoming demoralized by it. It encouraged shiftlessness and promoted dishonesty. In a thousand different ways it corrupted the morals of those who managed it, and of its patrons. A man who thinks he sees a fortune in continual investment of his savings or stealings in the purchase of lottery tickets loses all industry in work and all ambition to become a thrifty member of the community. So deeply did this impress itself on the best of our statesmen that twenty six of our states have by the most thoughtful and decisive legislation declared that the lottery business shall not be transacted within their bounds. Like many other kinds of business which have proved pecuniarly profitable, the lottery traffic has reared its ugly head conspicuously in sight of all men. It has tempted respectable papers to give currency to its proclamations and has made use of them to rope in the simpletons who have cash to invest in the purchase of chances for fortunes. It has enticed young people and people who were old enough to know better, to buy and buy and buy again, hoping against hope that each venture would result in redeeming the losses of previous ones. It has led to poverty insanity, crime despair and suicide. It has not one good feature to offset its many bad ones. It has raised and educated a crop of defaulters embezzlers and petty thieves. With lying promises and deceptive statements of gains it has beguiled the unwary and robbed them of their money which they begged borrowed or stole, that they might buy chances of wealth. The much-vaunted and widely-published stories of clerks clergymen and other investors who have suddenly been enriched by the drawing of prizes of from five to fifteen thousand dollars are, for the most part stupid lies. As to the publication of the numbers of the tickets drawn it is generally a piece of deception. Most of these tickets if drawn at all are in the hands of the lottery dealers or their relations. The chance purchasers at the ticket window or by mail have not bought these tickets though they may have bought the next numbers or the next to the next. If the lottery men want to make a tolerably honest presentation of their business to the public, let them advertise those numbers which have not drawn any prize. Let the people study this list and compare its size with that of the list of numbers drawn and some eyes will spring widely open with great astonishment.

If any of our readers want to grow rich without work let them go out in an open field and sit there until lightning strikes them and leaves a large pot of gold on the ground beside them. Or let them stand in the street at night watching meteors and catch in their hands the first meteor that falls near them. If it be objected that these ways to wealth are uncertain and productive of much loss of valuable time and effort we reply that they are as direct and economical as compared with the investment of money in lottery swindles.

The Ilwaco school district is now organized with Captain Reece Williams W W Ward and H L Pike as directors. School will be opened soon after the holidays, and it is expected that the teacher will be Miss Caples of Columbia City

AID TO IRELAND

The Cincinnati Gazette publishes an interview with two business men of Belfast Ireland, now in that city in which they state that the sending of aid to Ireland at this juncture would be regarded by the British government as an interference that there is really no distress that requires such extraordinary measures of relief and that to send money and provisions to Ireland would be equivalent to rendering so much aid to the Irish in their struggles against the British government. The situation is evidently critical and it will require all the courage and firmness of the British government to grapple with it successfully. It appears to us that no better argument [illegible] an interference could be presented than that to which these merchants of Belfast suggest. In respect to charity to their own, in helping one another in whole-souled free openheartedness no race surpasses the Irish and to deny the thousands of them who have left their relatives and friends and come to America the opportunity of sending back to those friends the means of procuring food is to say the least, a position which the government of England would not be likely to take. In some parts of Ireland almost a famine prevails and from the abundance which Irish men in America have they have contributed freely to relieve their distressed countrymen. To say that this is to be regarded by Great Britain as an interference in the affairs of Government to which official objection would be made is the assumption of the oppressive character of the feelings of that government towards Ireland which is not warranted even by past history. The merchants of Belfast probably spoke not from the card but from an uninformed standpoint if they referred to the sending of aid in the shape of food or money

INGALLS ON GRANT

Gen Rufus J Ingalls, whom all Oregonians know is a confidential friend of General Grant. He says he does not think anybody knows whether Grant will accept the presidential nomination or not but if it is offered him as by the voice of the great mass of the people, Gen Ingalls thinks he will not decline. He says Grant is just the man for the south by all odds and nearly all the southern leaders are his friends, and adds

Gen Grant is a man of too clear intelligence, too close observation, too much experience to wish to see one portion of the country treated with harsh and proscriptive laws and to see injustice meted out to it. He is a man of common sense. He wants to see the bitterness and rancour of the war die out as he said, you know, in his speech at Haverly's. He would like to see the south growing in material prosperity and wealth as the north is. He would like to see the southern states like the northern states—floating over with people and enterprise. He would like to see Louisiana and South Carolina like Illinois or Ohio, with two political parties struggling for supremacy with the people busily engaged in the work of improving their material condition instead of wrangling over the old sores with the dead issues of the war buried forever. He has taken his stand that this is a nation, not a confederacy. He believes that state rights theories so far as secession was concerned, at least, were buried forever by war, and he would like to see the people abandon a cause that is hopelessly lost and turn to new issues and work out a new prosperity

A exchange from Tennessee says all the democratic statesmen are making resolutions to behave themselves during the coming congress. They declare a determination not to allow the republicans to prod them into further blundering. Can they help themselves? Suppose for instance some meddlesome republican member introduces a constitutional amendment forbidding the payment of all southern claims, what will the democrats do with it? The solid south will never consent to its adoption and there can be no dodging the question save fatal results

Gen Miles in a letter to General Manager Sargent of the Northern says that such luxuries as melons cantaloupes tomatoes strawberries, plums, rasberries and cherries can be cultivated successfully—the last three growing wild in the Yellowstone valley. He also sends Mr Sargent a box containing specimens of cereals vegetables, etc raised near Miles City this season. In one instance over 100 bushels of wheat was raised to the acre. This seems almost fabulous but the statement coming from such high authority cannot be disbelieved.

CITY.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Wm Dowling, a steamboat hand familiarly known among the docks as "Big Bill" while working on the new Columbia City, at the quarries about miles above the city near the White House, yesterday morning was struck on the chest by a heavy stone falling from a ledge feet above him knocked overboard and drowned His body had not been recovered at dark last night Dowling was a magnificent specimen of physical manhood being six feet and six inches high of [illegible] and well proportioned frame, and endowed with extraordinary strength

A "VOTE OF CONFIDENCE.—The first of the annual church collections for the year in behalf of the Portland Bethel work and chaplaincy was taken up in the First Congregational church November 30th. The work of the Seamen's Friend Society and Portland Bethel was set forth by Chaplain Stubbs. Following the address Rev J A Cruzan made a brief and cordial appeal and the congregation responded heartily by contributions and subscriptions to the amount of $120 This was $— in advance of last year and may be regarded as a very welcome vote of confidence.

THURSTON COAL IN DEMAND.—The steamship State of California has ordered one hundred tons of the Thurston Coal Company's coal for this trip and the company have determined after repeated tests that it is a cheaper fuel than they are able to obtain from other grades of coal at a higher price. This with the steady demand for the same by the domestic trade in this city assures the company of an uninterrupted prosperity. It has been clearly substantiated that at $5 per ton it is a much cheaper fuel than wood at prevailing prices

REVIVAL OF THE MANIA.—Some fine contests at pedestrianism are promised at New Armory Hall to-night Wm F Dugan and Chas Reed will walk 10 mile square heel and toe for the championship of Oregon T B Sargent, who defeated Miss Von Berg in the 72 hour match, will start at 10 o'clock to walk 100 miles in 24 hours on a large wager An effort is being made to get up a match between Miss Sherman and Dugan for to-morrow night. The admission fee has been fixed at 25 cents

SENTENCE COMMUTED.—Governor Thayer on Saturday last commuted the sentence of Robert McGibbon, convicted at the last term of court in Clackamas county and sentenced to three years' imprisonment in the penitentiary for burglary The sentence was commuted on the recommendation of both bench and bar, and on the condition that the young man leaves for England at once and there remains until the expiration of the time for which he was sentenced

G. A. R. ELECTION.—At a meeting of George Wright Post No 1, G. A. R. held Friday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing term N S Pierce post commander; B. B Tuttle, S V C, E M Sargent, J. V. C., C P Yates, Q G C Sears, officer of the day, W D Palmer surgeon, A [illegible], chaplain, W W Wetzler, officer of the guard Council of administration—B. B. Tuttle, A. E Borthwick and [illegible].

[illegible] ROWERS TO COME.—The secretary of the Portland Rowing Association has addressed a letter to the Pacific Life, of San Francisco, stating what kind of a course [illegible] the champion rower of California, and [illegible] the champion of British Columbia, [illegible] the Willamette As soon as all preliminaries are completed these parties will be invited to visit Portland.

THE SHAKESPEARE CLUB.—This organization at Salem, which until quite recently has been somewhat limited as regards membership, has lately extended its rights and privileges and now claims among its members [illegible] "future Booths, Ristoris, Salvinis and histrionic lights." They meet at Dashiell's Hall, and their evenings with the immortal bard are not only pleasant but instructive as well.

DEAD.—Mr. John M. Gearin of this city received the sad intelligence Saturday evening of the death of his mother, having died Friday morning at the farm near Champoeg. Mrs. Gearin was 72 years of age and up within the past year had enjoyed uninterrupted good health. She came to Oregon [illegible] years ago, and was universally beloved and esteemed by all who knew her

CONGREGATIONAL LADIES' FAIR.—The fair announced for Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings of this week at the Congregational church vestry promises to be very successful. Fancy articles at reasonable rates, literary exercises, choice dinners [illegible]. Wednesday evening a New England dinner will be served in "ye olden style."

OFFICERS ELECTED.—Protection No 2, A O U W., of Salem, has elected the following officers for the ensuing year. J. H. Haas M. W.; [illegible], G. F., Luther Myers, [illegible] Gray, R.; G. Stoltz, financier, John Crawford, receiver; John Chase, guide, [illegible], I. W.; C. Craven, O. W, R. P. [illegible].

[illegible] AT THE FAIR.—We hear it whispered that the State Agricultural Society has consented to offer a premium for the best [illegible] club in attendance at their next fair. The amount, however, is insufficient to warrant any great competition, it being $50 for first premium and $30 for the second.

MCCORMICK'S ALMANAC.—McCormick's almanac for 1880 has just been laid on our table. The publication, which is twenty-five years old, has useful statistics pertaining to the growth, resources and population of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, together with a [illegible] of other useful information

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—The managers of the Good Samaritan Hospital and of the Good Samaritan Orphanage desire to express their sincere thanks to the committee on the Grant reception, and through them to the citizens of Portland, for the $100 given to each of these charities.

FEAST OF DEDICATION.—The Feast of Dedication will be specially observed with divine service at the Beth Israel synagogue to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock Parents and friends of the Sunday school pupils are particularly invited to be present.

AN OMISSION.—THE OREGONIAN'S correspondent at Salem, in reporting the proceedings of the board of managers of the State Fair Association last Tuesday, omitted the name of Henry Miller, director for this county, who was in attendance.

LADIES' GUILD.—The guild of St. Paul's (Episcopal) church at Salem held its annual meeting a few days since and elected the following officers President, Mrs Jos Holman; secretary, Mrs. C S Woodworth, treasurer, Mrs. James Walton

NOTARIES APPOINTED.—Governor Thayer has commissioned the following notaries public: [illegible] R Moores, E W Bingham B B Tuttle, S. E. Josephi of this city J K Wait of Milwaukie, and Fred Page-Trustin of Pendleton.

HEBREW S. S. TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.—The teachers of the Sunday school of the Beth Israel congregation have formed an association for the purpose of mutual improvement and unity of work in which they are engaged.

FROM ASTORIA.—Specials to Merchants Exchange Dec —6 P M—Clear light northeast wind British bark Alley Tower arrived at 5.30 P M British ship [illegible] arrived down this A M

NO THROUGH MAIL.—The O & C train Saturday brought no mail south of Drain's—the track in the road not having been repaired. It is expected that the track will be all right to-day.

EXEMPT FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION.—There will be a stated meeting of the Exempt Fire Association, held at the police court room on Monday Dec 8, 1879 at 7 o'clock P. M.

FIRST INSTALLMENT.—City Treasurer Snow, on Saturday last sent $8000 to Salem as the first installment on the state tax due from this county.

The great sale of French and English and all wool cashmeres of [illegible] stock come off at [illegible] o'clock at Gilman & Co's auction house

CHINESE MURDERER ARRESTED.—A celestial named Goo Fook who it seems is implicated in the murder of a fellow countryman at The Dalles about a year ago was arrested here just prior to the sailing of the steamer for San Francisco The friends of Goo Fook secured the services of Judge Woodward who caused a writ of habeas corpus to be issued. The case was to have been heard Saturday but was postponed until to-day in order to give those who charge the Chinaman with the commission of the crime an opportunity to make their assertions good by proof Several Chinamen from The Dalles arrived Saturday [illegible] to testify as [illegible] murder The [illegible] writ [illegible] day before [illegible] longer.

SMALL FIRE.—About [illegible] o'clock yesterday [illegible] a fire broke out in the Congress saloon owned by Thomas Nixon An alarm was sounded from box [illegible], which was responded to very quickly and the flames extinguished with but slight loss Nixon's loss about $100 which is covered by insurance. The boys have showed admirable alacrity of late in getting out at night and have done excellent work when they got to the fires and yesterday morning was no exception

RUNAWAY.—The usual afternoon runaway took place yesterday afternoon in front of the St Charles hotel The horses of Marbil's hack concluded that they could get on without a driver They collided with a wood pile broke the tongue out and dragging the driver after them to the Morrison street wharf there they came to a halt by running against a post The driver was considerably bruised and the damage small

GONE TO THE CASCADES.—Cols G H Mendel and G L Gillespie and C E Skinner Esq attorneys for Bod & Platt left for the Cascades on Saturday to commence the work of a settlement between the government and the contractor relative to the purchase of the plant from the latter by the former

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY.

Introductory Lecture To-day by Prof Harvey—Bright Prospect for the Coming Year—The Free Dispensary

The introductory lecture to the fourteenth course will be delivered at the college building to-day at 10 o clock by Prof Harvey The public are invited to attend, and Prof Harvey's reputation as a scientific lecturer insures a treat to all who avail themselves of it His theme will be upon matters pertaining to life and death

Our medical institute never had brighter prospects nor promised more good results than now The faculty composed of twelve leading men of the state is determined that Oregon made doctors shall rank second to none other and to that end is sparing neither pains labor nor expense

A city dispensary has been connected with the college at which individuals so desiring can avail themselves of medical and surgical treatment free, and to worthy poor people all needed medicines and surgical appliances will be dispensed without money and without price The faculty could hardly stand all this alone but having received a part of the overplus of the Grant reception fund and several contributions from liberal citizens the charity is well founded and will no doubt do much good

The class this session will probably out number any preceding one and already a goodly number of bright intelligent young men and women from various parts of the state have reached the city More, of course, are coming

The fall of .36 of a degree in the barometer at Sacramento is remarkable for the climate. At Red Bluff the wind was blowing from the north at the rate of 20 miles an hour and at Sacramento from the southeast at 24 miles. The telegraph operator at Red Bluff reports snow at Yreka, and extremely heavy rain south of this point. All the reports indicate a very heavy storm and it is altogether likely that the lines will be down again by morning.

It is generally understood that the new corporation as soon as they have effected an organization—probably this week—will purchase the business established by Col J R Farish and conduct the new enterprise in New Market Theater building on the same plan that merchants exchanges are carried on in large eastern cities

ORDINANCE 2266.

Mayor Thompson Instructs the Superintendent of Streets to Keep the Highways and Sidewalks Clear.

Many complaints having been made to Mayor Thompson that the streets, and especially the sidewalks are being obstructed, much to the annoyance and discomfort of pedestrians, he has issued the following order

PORTLAND Dec 6

William Braden, Esq, Superintendent of Streets—SIR I desire to call your special attention to section 61 of the city charter and to your duties as defined by said section I also call your attention to ordinance No 2266, and especially to sections 3, 4 5 and 6 of said ordinance These sections named above of ordinance No. 2266 are violated every day on almost every street of the city, and it is your duty to compel compliance with the provisions of said ordinance Boxes barrels, lumber, brush, piles of earth etc are found obstructing the streets and sidewalks to such an extent that some of the streets are almost impassable There is no ordinance which requires that you notify persons of the violation of the provisions of ordinance No 2266. All ordinances are published so all persons may be conversant with their provisions and they should know that they are violating the same, and your other duties as required by the city charter and ordinances of the city, occupy your whole time without your time being occupied by notifying persons of the violation of this ordinance which in nearly every case they are aware of before you notify them—your time cannot be taken up in that way

There is urgent necessity that the provisions of ordinance No 2266 be enforced and I shall insist on a strict enforcement of its provisions at your hands Respectfully yours

A COSTLY MISTAKE.

Many persons suffer for years with pains and aches which they mistakenly call Rheumatism but which are caused by a defective action of the Kidneys No outward application will cure this but the seat of the disease must be reached by internal remedies The Oregon Kidney Tea has cured many such and is the best purest and simplest remedy known being strictly vegetable [illegible] combined with hurtful drugs or mineral poisons

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies such as Pneumonia Hemorrhage and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Coughs Colds and the severest Lung Diseases It is Dr Boschee's famous German prescription and is prepared with the great care and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child as per directions The sale of this medicine is unprecedented Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks Large size cents Try it and be convinced

"JUNIUS BRUTUS" TO "ANXIETY

To Anxiety Upon application to the editor of THE OREGONIAN your name was furnished me as the author of the article in Saturday's issue signed Anxiety I regret that the author was not bigger game though your relationship to the chief of the legal ring in this state points very clearly to the inspiration of your wanton attack upon me Your loud yelp of anxiety for legal learning is more auspicious for a young man of your promising talents because by close application you may perhaps become proficient in one branch of the law Yet in the particular branch of [illegible] referred to you cannot succeed [illegible] that branch of the law [illegible] ed in the United States courts and I assure you [illegible] the principles of the [illegible] law But to answer your inquiry [illegible] my compilation of American admiralty decisions Had you inquired of me privately I would have furnished the information with the same pleasure as I now impart it to you I will premise by saying that when I came to this important shipping port to practice law I found it necessary to post myself thoroughly upon the laws of shipping and admiralty in order to be a safe adviser of the citizens of the community where I had cast my lot I confess that like all inland lawyers my knowledge of admiralty was limited and confined to the theory as learned in the schools Hence as no man should profess a knowledge he does not possess I resolved to carefully explore all the decisions of the American admiralty courts from the district up to the supreme. While I was doing this a book publishing house in San Francisco proposed to me that it would publish a book containing in condensed form of head notes and cases cited the gist of all these decisions which were numerous yet scattered over a field of several hundred volumes The house thought, and so did I that such a compilation would be very valuable to my brothers of the profession in many ways but chiefly in abridging their labors As it would necessarily post me on this branch of my profession very thoroughly and as it chimed in with my own purpose I agreed with the house and did the work exactly as stipulated In the meantime however Mr Desty published a manual of admiralty in very small compass and at a very low price and while it did not exactly fill the field that mine was intended to cover yet it made the publication of mine a doubtful venture and it was abandoned by mutual agreement As you are so very anxious however about this book I will say that it is possible I may use the material in another shape, and you may get the benefit of the toilsome labors of my leisure hours I venture however to correct a mistaken notion or two of yours about the book You seem to think it contains some new and unwritten law and hence perhaps your "anxiety" to obtain it for the use of the "legal ring," but I assure you it contains only the published decisions of the United States courts Furthermore I never claimed for it the extraordinary qualities of originality as hinted by you nor did I ever claim anything more for it than a useful handbook that would enable the younger brothers of my profession to reach in a few hours what it cost me years of toil to accomplish And although you and some other democrats from whom in this community I expected nothing but kindness have uniformly stabbed me in the back with the tongue-stiletto, yet I bear you no malice, and would readily yield you the use of the manuscript with the index I will soon have for it but you need not expect to find any "unwritten law" therein For that branch of the law you must consult the decrees of the "Ch-ku" and the "Novel Law Reports" of "Junius Brutus"—a recent one of which will appear in this week's Independent Very respectfully

PACIFIC RAILROADS.

An Exhaustive Report of Auditor French on the Trans-Continental Roads—Recommendations, Etc.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The full annual report of the government auditor of railroad accounts has now been printed. It contains an elaborate account of personal inspection of Central and Union Pacific railroads made by Auditor French and an engineer employed by him for that purpose. It is reported in regard to the Central Pacific road that nearly one-half of the tunnels should be lined with masonry instead of timber as at present; that both the surface and line of track are, for the most part, excellent, showing that care is bestowed upon them, that the road-bed and ditches are kept clean and in shape, that there are no mile posts or danger boards at the road crossings, that wherever needed the road is fenced by the company; that the bridges on the line are getting old and must soon require extensive renewals; that all temporary trestle approaches to large bridges on the mountains should be filled, and proper masonry abutments built, that bridge floors require more ties, and that guard rails should also be placed on them; that the company is building a new passenger station at Sacramento to accommodate their increasing local business, that the water supply is one of the most serious difficulties that the company has to contend with; that the engine houses are ample and well built; that the company's shops at Sacramento, furnishing work to over one thousand machinists and laborers, are well arranged and so located that they can be enlarged without interfering with their general system, whenever the requirements of business may demand it it. The company's hospital at Sacramento, and the ferry service between Oakland and San Francisco, are highly commended. It is suggested that it would be good economy to replace the wooden snow gallery over the Sierra Nevada mountains by an iron structure to avoid the risk and loss by fires. It is a question whether the line from Sacramento to Oakland, via Benicia, is as safe or economical as the present one, although it is so much shorter. The auditor says the equipment of the road is in good condition and ample. The sleeping cars are fully equal to any to be found anywhere. The company has built a large number of second-class sleeping cars, suitable for emigrants or such persons as choose to carry their own blankets, and has found them quite a success. If these cars could run through from San Francisco to Omaha, or the Union Pacific would provide similar ones, it would make the journey much more comfortable for a large number of persons who cannot afford to travel in regular sleepers. No additional charge is made for passage in these cars, merely the second-class or emigrant fare being paid. The passenger service on this road is unexceptionally good. Cars are kept clean and comfortable, both first and second-class; the speed is the same as on the Union Pacific, namely, nineteen miles average per hour for express and eleven miles per hour freight. The maximum actual running time is thirty-six miles per hour for passenger and fourteen and a half miles per hour for freight trains. It is believed that the condition of the track, road-bed and equipment is good enough to justify the company in increasing the average speed of passenger trains so as to make an average of twenty-four miles per hour, including stoppages, gaining ten hours in the trip from Ogden to San Francisco.

Auditor French also says the first class or express passenger train service and equipment on the Union Pacific are fully up to the requirements of the business. The speed of express or first class trains, including stops, average about 19 miles per hour, that of emigrant trains about 12 miles per hour. Great improvement is being made in the eating houses on the line, it being vital to the interests of the company to serve the traveling public in the best manner. The train accommodations, the quality of rolling stock, the cleanliness, the speed, the meal hours and the quality of and prices charged for meals and other matters, may safely be left to the good judgment of the general manager. It is, however, suggested that a fast through mail and passenger train on this road, stopping only at mail stations, principal points, or at division termini, now that the Central Pacific is about to shorten time on its line, would be very well patronized. Whether it would pay the company can only be determined by a special test. A gain of twenty-four hours in crossing the continent would be appreciated by all business men, both as regards mail and passenger transportation. The weight of mail carried is increasing to such an extent that ere long it may be necessary to run a through and local postal car. As to the condition of the Union Pacific road, it is reported that there remain many places where the line or grade or both may yet be improved; that over fifty per cent. of the road bed west of the North Platte should be widened; that a good many ties need renewing; that in renewing the track heavier steel rails should be used. Although the surface and line of the road as a general rule are good, there are a number of curves and some tangents which should be trued up with an instrument; that the switches and curves leading into sidings can be much improved; that the road is not provided with either "danger" boards or mile posts; that timber guards are not laid on the bridge floors, and that the policing of the road is not of the best character. The depot buildings, machine shops, water tanks, engine houses and rolling stock are in good repair generally, and are sufficient for the requirements of business. The company is rapidly substituting steel rails for iron and now has some 460 miles of track so laid. The bridges on the whole road are also being improved and strengthened. Water tanks of larger capacity and more durable material are being put up wherever new ones are required. New locomotives and cars have been added to the equipment from time to time, and all of it is now in good condition. A full supply of material of every kind is kept on hand.

Miscellaneous News.

Tagle and Gonzalez resigned from the cabinet because of political scruples—not willing to appear to influence the presidential election.

The presiding officer elected by the senate is Gonzalez, meanwhile the presiding officer of the houses favor Vallarte.

General Pacheco, the new minister of war, is supposed to be Diaz's dark horse in the presidential race. Benitz is about to be dropped. Some papers publish the vulgarity and low intrigues of the candidates who have imposed themselves upon the public, and have turned the best people toward Senor Vallarte.

Peace has been restored in Durango. The revolutionary chief, Carlos Ayria, has surrendered and his bands have been dispersed.

THE AUTHOR OF "KISMET."—The news that Miss Fletcher, the daughter of an American missionary, granddaughter of a Genevan preacher and author of "Kismet," is to marry Lord Wentworth, the grandson of Byron, is somewhat surprising. Lord Wentworth has always been a strange man. During the life of his father, when he wore by courtesy the title of Viscount Ockham, he became estranged from his family and labored for years in a shipyard as a common workman. He married and had children, but the union was unhappy; his wife was beautiful, scandal arose and a divorce ensued. Ralph Gordon Noel-Milbanke, the second son of Lady Lovelace ("Ada, sole daughter of my house and heart"), is now 40 years old; it is interesting to note that his title of Baron Wentworth derives from Charles I.'s earl of Strafford. By and by there was a sort of Byronic premonition in Miss Fletcher's familiar name of "Dudu"—inevitably reminding one of a little incident in the adventures of "Don Juan."—[Springfield Republican.

Professor—"What is a proposition?" Sophomore—"Something we perceive by intuition, sir." "Is every proposition something we perceive by intuition, for instance, that a hog does not chew the cud?" "No, sir; I know that from experience."

A man in Utica, N. Y., cut off his wife's hair, close to the scalp, because she had trimmed her little girl's hair short for the hot weather.

To Young Men.

And then remember, my son, you have to work. Whether you have to handle a pick or a pen, a wheelbarrow or a set of books, digging ditches or editing a paper, ringing an auction bell or writing funny things you must work. If you will look around you will see that the men who are the most able to work are the men you work the hardest. Don't be afraid of killing yourself with overwork, son. It is beyond your power to do that. Men cannot work so hard as that on the sunny side of 30. They die sometimes because they quit work at 6 P. M. and don't get home until 2 A. M. It's the intervals that kill, my son. The work gives you an appetite for your meals, it lends solidity to your slumber, it gives you a perfect and grateful appreciation of a holiday. There are young men who do not work, my son, young men who make a living by sucking the end of a cane, whose entire mental development is insufficient to tell them which side of a postage stamp to lick, young men who can tie a necktie in eleven different knots and never lay a wrinkle in it, and then would get into a West Hill street car to go to Chicago; who can spend more money in a day than you can earn in a month; who will go to the Sheriff's to buy a postal card, and apply at the office of Street Commissioner for a marriage license. But the world is not proud of them, my son. It does not know their names, even; it simply speaks of them as old Soanso's boys. Nobody likes them, nobody hates them; the great, busy world doesn't even know they are there, and at the great day of resurrection if they do not appear at the sound of the trumpet, and they certainly will not unless somebody tells them what it is for and what to do, I don't think Gabriel will miss them or notice their absence, and they will not be sent for or disturbed. Things will go on just as well without them. So find out what you want to be and make a dust in the world. The busier you are the less deviltry you will be apt to get into, the sweeter will be your sleep, the brighter and happier will be your holidays, and the better satisfied will the world be with you.

No, my son, the world does not owe you a living. The world does not need you—you need the world. If you can convince the world that you are necessary to its well-being, its happiness, its pleasure, its moral existence, then the world will begin to claim you and make room for you in the body pews with the softest cushions and the easiest footstools. But don't fall into the common error of supposing that the world owes you a living. It doesn't owe you anything of the kind. The world isn't responsible for your being. It didn't send for you and it never asked you to come here, and in no sense is it obliged to support you now that you are here. Your living is here—a good comfortable living. Plenty to eat, plenty to wear, an abundance of good, healthful, hard work, ripples of laughter, and sprinkles of tears, hours of happiness and moments of heartache, days of labor and nights of rest, duties to be performed and rewards to be won; it is all here, son—disappointments, struggles, success, and honors, but the world doesn't owe you one of them; not one. You can't collect your living as you would a debt, by simply presenting your bill, or giving your lawyer the account to sue. You have to work for it soon and work like a Trojan, too. When you hear a man say the world owes him a living, and he is going to have it, make up your mind that he is just making himself a good excuse for stealing a living. The world doesn't owe any man anything, son. It will give you anything you earn, and you just look out over the world and know that all the plunder you can gather in by honest work is yours, and no more. If you can't get any, why none of it is yours, and if you can search out and carry away ten times as much as your neighbor, why it is all yours, and he has no right to wait and whine over his bad luck and want to divide. And my son, in all human probability, you will not want to divide. I hope you may, but it is very likely you won't.—R. J. Burdette in Burlington Hawkeye.

What a certain lady refused, soon after her husband's death, to let the hounds go out, a learned sergeant-at-law asked Chief Justice X. whether there would be any harm if they were allowed to do so with a piece of crape around their necks. "I can hardly think," said the Chief Justice, "that a piece of crape is necessary. It will surely suffice if they are in full cry."

Irate landlord (and Free-Kirk elder, before being called in for the fiftieth time about some repairs): "The fact is, Mrs. McRacket, ye'll never be content till ye're i' the hoose made wi' oot hands." (Severely): "See Second Corinthians, fifth chapter and firrist vairse, Mrs. McRacket!"

Northern Pacific Railroad Co.
PEN D'OREILLE DIVISION.
IMPORTANT LAND NOTICE.
THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMpany opens a branch Land Office at Colfax, Whitman county, W. T., and offers for sale a portion of its lands in the Pen d'Oreille Division, for the present, at the remarkably low price of THREE DOLLARS per acre for CASH, and Four Dollars per acre on time as follows: ⅙ Cash down, the remainder in four equal annual payments, with interest annually at seven per cent per annum.
The right is reserved to change above prices and terms at any time before written agreements are executed. All persons who have applications to purchase on file with the Railroad Company can be relieved of anxiety and doubt as to what the lands will cost on which they have settled by applying at once to the Company's Office in Colfax and purchasing the same.
As the lands of the Pen d'Oreille Division are now offered for sale, no more "settlers applications to purchase" will be placed on file.
The lands now offered are situated in the following described Townships:

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,
Such as SPERMATORRHEA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.
I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.
